

CANDIDATE TENER SAYS HE NEVER SWINDLED ANYBODY

Addresses Large Meeting in Jefferson County

ATTORNEYS ARE RETAINED

Philadelphia and Pittsburgh Lawyers Engaged to Look After His Interests

At a monster rally of Jefferson county Republicans at Punxsutawney last night Congressman John K. Tener, Republican candidate for Governor, reiterated his strong denial of the charges a Philadelphia paper makes against him, which alleges he was connected with a swindling get-rich-quick concern. Mr. Tener said: "I want to say that I never swindled anybody in my life. There is not a man, woman or child in the United States who dare say that I ever sold them a share of get-rich-quick company stock."

The meeting was attended by large delegations of Republicans from Brookville, the county seat of Jefferson, Reynoldsville, Brookwayville, Big Run and representatives of the farming districts. A distinguished personage at the rally was Dr. W. J. McKnight, a former Senator of the Jefferson Indiana district, who was one of the founders of the Republican party in 1856. The campaigning party will be at a rally at Indiana tonight. The Jefferson county campaign managers are confident that the county will give Mr. Tener over 1,000 majority.

Mr. Tener yesterday retained attorneys in Pittsburgh and Philadelphia to look after his interests.

DELEGATES RETURN FROM CONVENTION

Big Feature of State Sunday School Session Men's Parade Last Night.

Rev. G. G. Kerr and the most of the Washington county representatives at the State Sunday School convention at Altoona this week returned home today and report one of the best sessions ever held by the State association. One of the big features was the parade of men last night 3,000 strong, after which the men were addressed by Ex-Governor Hanly of Indiana, on the topic of temperance, and by Rev. J. A. Lansing of Scranton. Rev. Hanley's address is said to be one of the best ever heard at a State convention. Rev. Kerr made an address at a conference on the federation movement. Washington county is in the front line of counties for a number of Adult Bible classes being led only by Dauphin county.

Dietz of Charleroi and Meridith Roberts of Monessen.

P. H. C. RENDERS PROGRAM

Fine Time Had at Literary Contest Feature.

ONE SIDE HAS ITS SAY

The third program of the literary contest of the P. H. C. was rendered last evening under the colors of yellow and green. Capt. Velletay had his forces out in good shape. The program was very good, consisting of quotations, readings, speeches etc. A feature was an address of Prof. L. R. Smith of the California Normal, a member of the order. Mr. Smith dwelt upon the rapid growth of the circle and its progress, closing with a beautiful solo, "And for me," which proved he was a vocalist as well as an orator.

Burgess Geo. W. Risbeck, who "rode the goat" last evening also made a fitting and pleasing address. Probably the height of pathetic selections was reached by a recitation by J. A. Maloy, "When My Mother Went Away." The program was filled with selections from the sublime to the ridiculous. The periodical, the "P. H. C. Soup Bowl," a companion piece to the "P. H. C. Dish Rag," edited by C. B. Copeland, concluded the program. The Soup Bowl was full of varieties, good sound facts pertaining to the order, wit and quaint sayings.

Seventy-five members were present and 19 propositions were presented and balloted on. A class of ten was admitted by regular initiation.

Capt. Frank Taylor of side No. 2 was also out with his forces, colors orange and black. Next Friday's program promises to be unusually good. A quartet of male voices will be a feature. The periodical will be edited by Miss Sarah Booth.

The circle is preparing to put two floats in the big Halloween demonstration. Active preparations are being made along that line.

Charleroi will have 50 new members for the big class which will be in the Exposition building in Pittsburgh December 1. The circle has now a membership of 328 regularly enrolled. It expects to reach 400 by January 1, 1911.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS TO MEET AT MONESSEN

The work will be put on at the Turner Hall and will be done by three different lodge degree teams. Monessen, Uniontown and Erie. Ninety applicants will receive the degree, they being from Uniontown, Latrobe, Greensburg and New Kensington. Among the prominent members of the lodge who will be present will be Deputy John Newman, of Pittsburgh.

To increase the interest and attendance in midweek prayer meetings, a contest is being conducted now between the First Christian church of Charleroi and the Monongahela Christian church. The contest has been going on now for two weeks and results have been noted already. Deputy John F. Ely of Jeannette, Deputy Slater of Washington and Pas Deputy John McNulty.

MAKE RECORD RUN BUT FIRE IS OUT

Two Companies Called Out Shortly Before Noon Today.

By a small blaze on a roof of a tenement house on Tenth street, between McKean avenue and the railroad, the fire department was called out this morning with the chemical wagon and the hook and ladder wagon. After making a record run to the place, it was discovered that the fire which was merely at a small spot on the roof, had been extinguished by a boy with a bucket of water.

Rev. Doak Goes to Wellsburg

Rev. A. M. Doak.

Rev. A. M. Doak, who this week was appointed as pastor of the Wellsburg W. Va. A. E. church by the Pittsburgh conference, left today for that place where he will preach tomorrow. Rev. Doak has been the local pastor for three years and has many friends here. Rev. F. A. Richards of Homer City will succeed him.

A Correction

To the Editor of the Mail: In last night's issue of the Charleroi Mail you stated that James Schnelbach, Joseph Schnelbach and Miss Lottie Schnelbach had left their respective positions with the Macbeth-Evans Glass company here to take places with their brother, Harry Schnelbach, who is operating a plant in Follansbee, W. Va. We wish to contradict this statement. James Schnelbach, Joseph Schnelbach and Miss Lottie were discharged by the Macbeth-Evans Glass company. We had no positions in view when we were discharged. Our dismissal came, because Mr. Harry A. Schnelbach, former general superintendent of the Macbeth-Evans Glass company, has gone into competitive business. We neither left the company to accept positions elsewhere, nor did we resign.

Signed, James Schnelbach, Joseph Schnelbach, Lottie Schnelbach.

Mrs. Rose Shark has arrived from Millvale N. J., to spend some time here.

The class of candidates for the ministry ordained at the Pittsburgh Lutheran Synod convention Thursday evening here is said to have been larger than any class ever ordained at one time heretofore in the history of the Pittsburgh Synod. Last year the synod at their convention bewailed the fact that there were not enough candidates for the ministry, and that the proper interest was not being taken. There were none to be ordained at that time.

A Circulation Campaign

That the scurrilous charges of the Philadelphia North American against Congressman John K. Tener were actuated by a desire to gain circulation and notoriety as well as to bolster up a lost cause, is evidenced by the statement of Burton L. Rockwood, chairman of the Prohibition State committee, who is fully conversant with the North American's methods. Mr. Rockwood said:

"This shows beyond a doubt to what extent the newspapers back of the Keystone party are driven to in attempting to bolster up a losing fight. 'About two years ago, while riding up in the elevator to his office in the 'North American' building, Van Valkenberg, of that paper accosted one of the 'State desk' men with the words: 'Let me see, my boy, you came to us from the 'Johnstown Democrat,' didn't you? Well you may never have a paper of your own, but if you do get on the rest of some popular wave like this local option wave and ride into a greater circulation.'"

"These things, coupled with the fact that the wards in Philadelphia which gave Giboney the largest vote when he ran the last time for some thing or other (he has been in the running but almost as long as Berry and for every office in the list) and which voted in their final registration about 1,000 votes, has made this erstwhile defender of the Keystone or K whole party desperate in trying to turn the tide and thus 'bring back the boy' they have put into the party by sensational articles to increase its circulation before the campaign closes."

The charges of the North American have fallen flat. Its strongest point was when it made the grand stand play of announcing that it had "something dreadful" to flash on Mr. Tener and demanding the latter's withdrawal. What the North American tried to make people believe it had and what it really has, are two different propositions, and will not make any appreciable gains for the Keystone campaign of vilification.

A Demagogue in Action

The citizen who forms his opinion in politics deliberately and with regard to the facts has been hampered somewhat in the present campaign by abuse and misrepresentation from the third party candidate for Governor, says the Philadelphia Star. The tempestuous Mr. Berry has endeavored to confound the voter with a view to forcing him to base his judgment, not upon the issue nor upon the relative merits of the candidates, but upon sensational charges and other specious and deceitful arts employed by the office hungry demagogue.

Berry's campaign is an insult to every self-respecting Republican in this State. By skillfully made charges, insinuations, innuendoes and reckless falsification he hopes to deceive the people and secure an office. Instead of meeting the voters with honest discussion of the issues he appears as the apostle of abuse and invective. Throughout the campaign his methods have been those of the demagogue. After the most reckless statements he will shrewdly admit, "Now, I am not prepared to furnish evidence that would stand in any court of justice."

Repeatedly Mr. Berry has said: "John K. Tener was nominated at the dictation of the liquor interests." This statement does not contain a syllable that is true. John K. Tener was nominated by a convention of delegates representing the great Republican hosts of this Commonwealth. These delegates did not act at the dictation of the liquor men nor of any body else. They nominated Mr. Tener because they knew him to be able and honest and because they considered him the most available candidate for the office of Governor. He was nominated without a dissenting vote and the liquor interests had absolutely nothing to do with the convention's action.

The alleged protection of vice in Philadelphia is another favorite theme of the office hungry candidate. His charges are vague. He merely repeats the scandalous statements of others and smaller office hungry candidates who have endeavored to do in Philadelphia what Mr. Berry is now attempting to do in the State. But, even if Mr. Berry's charges possessed an element of truth, the fact would remain that John K. Tener is not a candidate for the office of mayor of Philadelphia, but a candidate for Governor of Pennsylvania.

Berry is following the same line of attack he utilized when a candidate for State Treasurer five years ago. In that campaign the people of Pennsylvania were stricken aghast at his charges of amazing corruption in city and State. From newspaper and stump the wild dissemination of scandal went on until a majority of the people elected Berry State Treasurer. He received their votes under pledge to reveal and correct the abuses that he alleged existed. But he was not able to substantiate his reckless charges. One by one the scandalous statements he had made on the stump were proven to be without foundation.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

Nothing makes a man quite so proud of himself as being told that he is over-working.

The Beaver county murderer caught in Monongahela after a few days French leave of absence from jail there, couldn't keep away from Charleroi, when he was supposed to be decent, and came here to be employed and to make occasionally visits to the lockup.

The editor of John K. Tener's Charleroi Mail should take six months off and attend a school where they teach nothing but truth telling. It is possible that by close application, at the end of the term he might, if he applied all his powers, be able to tell the truth once in a while. At present he appears to have no ability whatever that direction"—Canonsburg Notes. If Acheson's Echo, otherwise the Notes, would be just a little more explicit when it says wicked things about its contemporaries, it would perhaps please their patrons more and let us know just what it was talking about.

The Mail has been taken to task for stating that there were only about 100 at the Keystone California meeting. We are sincerely sorry, humbly apologize and take it all back. There were 101 1-2.

One way to stop all Halloween depredations is to help along the Halloween celebration. Another way is to padlock everything.

The New Castle Herald makes a very wide statement when it says no man will support Tener unless he holds office, expects to hold office, or has a relative who holds office. It evidently thinks that the big majority is holding office.

With the hunting season open, a scarcity of milk may be expected because of the carelessness of farmers in not properly labeling cows to protect them from being taken for birds.

After all it is a question whether it is more dangerous to trust a forger with a gun than it is to trust a forger to a gun.

That word "rousing" is being worked overtime by these Keystone party writers.

A MIGHTY REMEDY

Cures Backache, Sideache and all Kidney, Liver and Bladder or Money Back

Yes money back, that's the offer that W. F. Hennings the agent in Charleroi makes if Thompson's Barosma fails to cure any of the above named diseases.

And when you stop to think that's a wonderfully generous offer from the viewpoint of the afflicted, the sick and the suffering.

But the generous feature is cast aside when you learn that the makers of Thompson's Barosma aren't taking one-tenth the chance you think they are, because they know from years of experience, and from thousands of cures, and thousands of testimonials that Thompson's Barosma will absolutely and permanently cure all kidney, liver and bladder diseases.

So the money back offer is made simply to show quickly and conclusively that the makers of Thompson's Barosma have the utmost faith in this marvelous remedy.

So if you are ill, have the blues, have lost ambition, have backache or pains in your side, if your urine is high colored, and your eyes dull and complexion sallow, the chances are that your kidneys are weak and clogged up and that your blood is full of impurities.

So why wait when Thompson's Barosma is guaranteed to restore your health. Get a bottle today at W. F. Hennings. There are two sizes 50 cent and $1.00.

Five years ago Charles Schultz of Dunkirk, N. Y., was so weak and rundown, that he decided to give up his business. He took Barosma and in a few months he regained his health and gained 55 pounds in weight. Today he writes: "I have been in perfect health ever since I wrote you five years ago."

Lecture Course at Monessen

An association of 42 guarantors has been quietly formed at Monessen for the purpose of giving a lecture course during the coming winter. Their announcement would indicate that the course of entertainments will be of the highest order, as Gov. E. W. Hoch of Kansas has been secured as the stellar attraction. Gov. Hoch is known from Maine to California as a public speaker, ranking with Roosevelt and Bryan as a drawing card.

Dr. Samuel Parkes Cadman equally successful as a lecturer, although not so widely known as Gov. Hoch, has also been secured. These two lecturers together with the Duddy Buck Concert company and Whitney Brothers quartet will round out the course. Season tickets at $1.50 for the course can be obtained from Rev. A. T. Wallace, secretary of the Guarantors Association.

INFLUENTIAL JOURNALS DO NOT TAKE SERIOUSLY ATTACK ON J. K. TENER

It (the North American) admits that a group of respectable names was added to the list of directors and of these respectable names half a dozen are given. It stands to reason that these half dozen were unaware of the fraudulent nature of the company, if that be its true nature. Their standing would preclude such connection with a true knowledge of its nature. We believe that in the absence of knowledge and consent to the fraudulent operations of the company by Mr. Tener his name should not be used in connection with those of the criminal element but in connection with those of the respectable element, and that for the purpose of attack the North American is simply taking advantage of his candidacy to exploit his name in a fraudulent connection. If that be the case the attack is unfair and unjust—Uniontown Herald.

As for this bit of sensationalism which has been introduced into the campaign it is a disgrace to journalism. It is essentially a low grade political trick, partly intended to attain the meanest of partisan ends and partly to achieve a feat of commercialism of the most despicable character. This is proved by the circular letter from the paper's circulation department, by means of which an effort was made to sell the slander as widely as possible—Pittsburg Gazette Times.

This organ of revolt and revenge has been manufacturing a bomb with which to blow Tener's candidacy into atoms and blast his private character forever. In an open letter to Senator Penrose it demands the withdrawal of Tener under penalty of his political destruction. Tener meets the charge with characteristic straightforwardness. The reply is a stinging rebuke and a trumpet note of challenge. It is not the answer of a fawning political slave, but of a self-respecting citizen and loyal Republican. It is not the cringing visions of a guilty conscience, but the bold defiance of conscious rectitude—Connellsville Courier.

The Tribune is by no means an enthusiastic supporter of John K. Tener for the position of chief magistrate of this Commonwealth, but it has never had any occasion to question his personal honesty or his business integrity. It does not believe there is anything in the vague charges made against him by the Philadelphia newspaper; it does not think they will do him a particle of harm. The people of Pennsylvania are not less critical than their neighbors of other States when there is anything to be critical about. But they are acquainted with the "reform" leaders who have been actively engaged for many years now in the effort to overthrow the Republican party and they seldom get excited until a careful investigation has shown that there is real fire back of the smoke raised by the gentlemen who are trying to become the ins.—Altoona Tribune.

The Cry of the Age is "Back to the Farm"

With the best market in the world at his door, the intensive farmer located in the Monongahela valley is the wise man of his generation.

Every town has as much need of the small truck, fruit and poultry farms around it as it has for more factories. Such farms make living better and cheaper for the laboring man and more business for the merchant.

I have secured control of a large farm within five minutes walk of the borough limits and will, within the next six weeks, sell it out in small farms. I now have purchasers for about one-half of it and owing to the great demand for small farms near Charleroi expect to close all sales for these farms in a very short time.

A farm big enough for all the boys to work as a truck, poultry and fruit farm while the father works at the mill, can be bought for the price of a cheap town lot. Good country school nearby.

A farm big enough to require the whole time of one intensive farmer can be bought for $500.00. Read the Pittsburg papers about the great land show which will be held there within the next few weeks and learn what can be raised on a few acres of ground by the new methods of intensive farming.

Call at the office of Charles O. Frye, 511 Washington Avenue, and get full particulars.

Learn About Irrigation and the Enormous Productive Power of Irrigated Land!

It's a marvelous story—so wonderful that you must see facts and figures before you can even comprehend it. Yet it's all true. Irrigation is rapidly turning the "great West" into the garden spot of the world. Every river, stream and ditch that carries moisture to western acres is setting loose a store of fertility practically inexhaustible. A few acres of irrigated land, with attendant water rights, will yield vastly greater profits than a large eastern farm. Especially is this true of irrigated land in California and Idaho. Everything that grows anywhere grows in these favored spots. Nature works for the happy rancher the whole year round. Bumper crops of oranges, lemons, grapes, peaches, small fruits, cereals and "truck," in natural succession follow each other, or grow together, and keep the rancher's pocket bulging with profits twelve months in the year. We could fill this whole space with the story of western irrigated land and not tell half—but, if it interests you—if you want a better chance than you're getting now—come to our booth at the big land show in Pittsburgh, October 17th to 29th, and let us tell the rest of the story.

Stereopticon Views

Just to clinch what we're saying about our western irrigation projects, we have arranged for a most interesting stereopticon lecture by Colonel P. E. Holp. This will be too good to miss. It will give you a better idea of the tremendous crops and profits to be had from irrigated land in California and Idaho than columns of cold type can possibly do.

You will see here in actual photographs—farms, homes, crops and conditions just as they are to-day in this, the richest empire of the west.

A Relief Map of California

And besides the really wonderful stereopticon views and interesting lecture, we have also a great relief map of the whole state of California, showing mountain ranges, lakes, rivers, the Yosemite Valley and all the other marvelous physical features of this most wonderful state in the Union. On it you can locate at a glance our great Sacramento Irrigation Project and get a clear idea of its natural advantages and proximity to the best markets in the state.

H. L. HOLLISTER & COMPANY

J. H. Simpson, Resident Manager,

345 Fourth Avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Returns of 40 to 400 Dollars per Acre

This great tract of enormously rich land (hundreds of thousands of acres) in the beautiful Sacramento Valley and our Twin Falls tract in Idaho are the two largest public and private irrigation enterprises in the country. The crops that can be grown on these lands are almost endless in variety. A few acres on either tract offers to the tired-out and discouraged eastern farmer a return for his labor vastly in excess of anything he has ever dreamed of. $40 to $400 per acre is the common thing, not the exception.

Free Literature at Our Office

At our office, 345 Fourth Ave., we constantly carry a mass of beautiful descriptive literature for free distribution that is well worth your reading.

California is the land of sunshine—the land of promise—the land of the future! Thousands of settlers are leaving worn-out eastern farms, or worrying, wearing toil at desk and bench, and are taking refuge in these lands of plenty. There is room for you too. This is a project you should know about. Call at our booth at the big Pittsburgh Land Show or—still better—make our offices your headquarters while in Pittsburgh. We'll extend you every courtesy and maybe we can show you a way to do better financially than you're now doing.

HE ASKED THE TIME.

A Question and Answer That Changes a Clerk's Position.

How many clerks measure up to the standard of the young bookkeeper in this story from Human Life? He was employed in the passenger department of a great railroad. It was just a little before lunch. Some of the clerks were putting on their coats, some leaving for the washroom, some consulting the clock; some were still busy. Suddenly the "boss" entered. He glanced about him and then approached the young bookkeeper.

"What time is it?" he asked. The young man kept on figuring, and the boss put a hand on his desk and repeated the question.

Instantly the other looked up, surprised to see the chief at his elbow. "I beg your pardon, were you speaking to me?" he asked.

"Merely inquired the time—that was all," said the other.

"The bookkeeper glanced about the room, located the office clock and said: 'It's ten minutes to 12.'"

"Thank you," said the general manager and vice president, and strolled out.

That conversation cost the young bookkeeper his place—in the passenger department—and put him under a higher officer "on the firing line." Nine years later he was assistant general manager, and while still in the thirties became a general manager, full fledged.

RAPID STORY WRITING.

A Boast That Dumas Made, a Wager and the Result.

For rapidity of composition the prize among novelists must be awarded to Alexandre Dumas, who died with over 3,000 books to his credit. In all of which he had some share. According to Mr. Arthur F. Davidson, one of his biographers, he often declared that when once he had mapped out in his mind the scheme of a novel or a play the work was practically accomplished, since the mere writing of it presented no difficulty and could be performed as fast as the pen could travel. Some one disputed this; the result was a wager.

Dumas had in his head the plan of the "Chevalier de la Maison Rouge," of which he had not yet written a word, and he made a bet of 100 louis that he would write the first volume of the novel in seventy-two hours. The volume was to be formed by seventy-five large foolscap pages, each page containing forty-five lines and each line fifty letters. In sixty-six hours Dumas had done the work in his fair, flowing hand, disfigured by no erasures—and the bet was won with six hours to spare.—London Chronicle.

Danced in Court.

An unusual scene was once witnessed in a French law court, the civil tribunal at Nantes. The proprietor of a local theater had engaged a young lady dancer, whose performances at rehearsals did not come up to his expectations. He therefore would not let her appear, and the fair dancer took action against him for breach of contract. The defendant alleged that she had not, even learned the first steps of her art, and here being a plain issue, the judge determined to decide for himself. A space was accordingly forthwith cleared on the floor of the court, and in these unusual surroundings the young lady duly went through her steps and pirouettes. In the result the judge felt justified in certifying that she was quite an expert dancer and decided the case in her favor. Henceforth she advertised herself as the only dancer in the country with a legal certificate of proficiency.—London Tit-Bits.

Poets and Dogs.

Poets have always loved dogs. In this poets and boys resemble each other. Walter Savage Landor was devoted to his dog Giallo and Byron's epitaph upon his dog Boatswain we all remember:

To mark a friend's remains these stones arise. I never had but one, and there he lies.

Cowper was very fond of his dog, and we know how Charles Lamb, who was a prose poet, loved his Dash and how Mrs. Browning appreciated the little Flush to whom she indited a poem. The Earl of Shaftesbury kept his noble collie in his library with him at all times and Samuel Rogers always walked out with his dog. Scott declined an invitation to dinner when his dog died, saying that he could not accept on account of the "loss of an old friend."—St. James' Gazette.

The Cavity.

Cholly—The dentist told me I had a large cavity that needed filling. Ethel—Did he recommend any special course of study?

Albani and Gye.

The story of Mme. Albani's first London engagement is as follows: Colonel Mapleson heard of her singing at a theater at Malta, and, thinking that she would be successful, he made her an offer through an agent of a contract to sing in Her Majesty's theater. She agreed to it and went to London, but on arriving there she told the cabman to drive her to the Italian opera house. He, instead of going to Her Majesty's, took her to Covent Garden, which was also devoted to Italian opera. She was shown up to the manager's office and stated that she had come to sign the contract which Mr. Mapleson had offered her. Mr. Gye, thinking to play a joke on his rival, Mapleson, made out a contract, and Albani signed it. Mr. Gye then told her that he was not Colonel Mapleson, but that he could do much better by her. He offered to tear up the contract if she liked, but told her that Nilsson was singing at Her Majesty's and would brook no rival. Albani decided to let the contract stand and thus became one of the stars of Covent Garden, eventually marrying the son of Mr. Gye.

His Final Plea.

A Chicago man appeared at the White House one day during the McKinley administration with a petition containing 7,000 names recommending him for appointment as Brazilian minister. He was a picture framer, and when he was canvassing for orders he took along his petition and asked everybody in the picture frame business to sign it. Almost everybody did.

The man was insistent and finally reached the president. Always gentle and considerate, President McKinley explained to the candidate that he would have to consult the Illinois senators and representatives about the matter before making the appointment. "You know," said the president, "we have to select big men for these big places."

"Well," asked the picture framer, "won't I be just as big as any of them if I get the job?"—Philadelphia Saturday Evening Post.

The Lost Umbrella.

"I have been coming here for my lunch for years, but never again," said a man to the head waiter of a downtown restaurant recently. "Sorry," began the waiter. "Sorry nothing. I left the umbrella here not five minutes ago, there was no one near our table, and the waiter must have seen it." "If we find it"—"Find it? It is found, I tell you, and I'll have it now or you'll never see me here again."

The man, flushed with excitement, was walking away when he was hailed by a man who had entered by the rear door: "Say, Frank, is this your umbrella? I picked it up when we finished lunch. Glad you were still here." "Here, but not still," the head waiter whispered. "The umbrella has been found, but our customer has been lost for a few days. He'll be ashamed to come in for a little while."—New York Tribune.

The Cassowary.

The cassowary is a natural boxer and the only bird, except perhaps the ostrich, whose method of defense and attack in warfare is the forward kick—straight out, like a man—is calculated to arouse envy in the breast of any save a crack athlete. Another peculiarity of this bird is his ability to perform a sort of war dance over any particular object, a bit of rag, a stick or a stone, that attracts his attention.

Varied Views of Marriage.

Marriage is a lottery to the bachelor, an urgent necessity in the opinion of the widower, a delightful temptation to the widow, a habit with a good many.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

AMONG THE THEATRES

The Palace—Charleroi

The strength of a story or picture is in the penetration of that most vital of all interests—the heart—and that is the secret of the force and beauty of "The Three of Them," a feature at the Palace Theatre this week. The mainspring of life is the child. A childless home is like a ship without a compass.

It is not strange that the wife who is not a mother longs to take to her heart and home some motherless child and that is just what Mrs. Welton did when she read in a magazine that she might take from the asylum Ernest, a little orphan boy, into her home for two weeks. Her husband is opposed to it, but does not interfere with her doing so. Gradually Mr. Welton becomes quite interested in the boy and his many little pastimes. His wife sees this and she is nappy. She loves the boy dearly and when the two weeks are ended she can hardly bear to part with him when she has to take him back to the asylum. Returning to her home, she is heart-broken. Her husband notices her condition and he decides to go to the asylum and bring the boy to their home for adoption. Acting upon the impulse he brings the boy back, and when his wife who has worn herself out fretting, is sleeping, the boy youngster kisses her. She awakens and can scarcely believe her eyes. The boy becomes their child, they become his parents and the three of them are happy in the love of a completed household.

There is a something in this picture that gets a hold and keeps you right there from the minute it starts to the time it ends.

The vocal music was a strong feature the Palace this week. Monday night all the singers rendered their own compositions. Donald J. Garrison sang "Mowena" an Indian love song of his own composing, and Francis Mack sang his beautiful ballad "No One Knows" and "Jingle, Jingle of the Money in the Pocket is the Sweetest Sound to Me." John Jenkins, Esq., has been engaged as drummer, and the attendance this week has been of the capacity order.

The Grand—Pittsburg

The Grand's vaudeville program for the week beginning next Monday afternoon, September 17, includes Nora Bayes and Jack Norworth, late star feature of the "Follies of 1907-08-09" and "The Jolly Bachelors," the seven America Belfords, advanced acrobats; Herr Germain, the famous Manhattan Opera tenor; Musical Suffragettes, recruited from the Boston Fadettes Women's Orchestra; Raymond and Caverly, German dialect comedians; Gertrude and Dyck and Roy Fern in a classy singing act and numerous others.

Nora Bayes and Jack Norworth, however, will be the feature prominent. It will be their first engagement in this city as joint stars.

The Alvin—Pittsburg

The announcement that Robert Mantell will appear in Pittsburg at the Alvin Theatre for a full week in Shakespearean and classic plays, is one which is calculated to arouse more than usual interest. The unquestioned position which this distinguished actor occupies at the head of his profession in America, and the brilliant repertoire selected offer sufficient assurance that the affair will be one of the most memorable in the theatrical history of Pittsburg. Last season was one of disaster a great many theatrical enterprises and it is significant that the Mantell season was the most prosperous within the extended career of that distinguished actor. The tour extended from coast to coast, and everywhere Mr. Mantell was most warmly greeted by large and enthusiastic audiences. Plans are in progress of formation for a tour of the world, commencing in the autumn of 1911, when Mr. Mantell expects to open his season on the Pacific coast to sail from San Francisco for Australia, via Honolulu, and Manila, and after playing the larger Australian cities, to go through the Strait Settlements, Calcutta, and other Indian ports and to return home by way of the continent and England, playing extended engagements in London early in the summer of 1912. Consequently this will be his last appearance for at least two years. The repertoire selected for the Alvin is as follows: Monday, "Hamlet;" Tuesday, "Macbeth;" Wednesday matinee "King Lear," Wednesday night, "Merchant of Venice;" Thursday and Friday The

"O Flynn;" Saturday matinee, "Romeo and Juliet," and Saturday night "Richard Third."

The Nixon—Pittsburg

Commencing Monday evening, October 17 at the Nixon Theatre, Pittsburg and continuing for the week, with matinees Wednesday and Saturday, the attraction will be Laurette Taylor, the youngest and daintiest dramatic star, in the notable comedy success "The Girl in Waiting." The fact that the star and production are under the management of Cohan and Harris, whose attractions are always among the very best of the season's offerings is sufficient guarantee of their merit. J. Hartley Manners has taken for his plot the story of Archibald Eyre's novel of the same name and woven around it one of the most fascinating chains of incidents ever devised. He has mingled comedy humor, farce and romance in just the proper proportions to give them the greatest value. The four acts are magnificently staged, and the gowns worn by the ladies of the company are a treat to the eye.

As for Laurette Taylor's interpretation of the leading role, nothing more chic and dainty has been seen on the stage in years. Her youth and beauty, her charm of manner and personality, her winning smile and infectious laugh—all aid her in scoring one of the most pronounced hits in several years. She is irresistible in the comedy scenes sweet and appealing in the serious moments and in her deft and subtle touches displays the skill of the true artists.

New Duquesne—Pittsburg.

The most elaborate and gorgeous production that has ever been attempted by the Harry Davis stock company at the Duquesne theatre will be next week's richly staged revival of Vitorien Sardou's "Cleopatra." This magnificent masterpiece of the great French playwright—the most brilliant theatrical genius of his age—will be given with an opulence of scenic splendor. Its six acts will be crowded stage pictures, glowing with Oriental color and charm. Mary Hall who excels in the portrayal of the heroine of Sardou, will be seen as the fascinating siren of the Nile, while the new young leading man,

CANDIDATE TENER SAYS HE NEVER SWINDLED ANYBODY

Addresses Large Meeting in Jefferson County

ATTORNEYS ARE RETAINED

Philadelphia and Pittsburgh Lawyers Engaged to Look After His Interests

At a monster rally of Jefferson county Republicans at Punxsutawney last night Congressman John K. Tener, Republican candidate for Governor, reiterated his strong denial of the charges a Philadelphia paper makes against him, which alleges he was connected with a swindling get-rich-quick concern. Mr. Tener said: "I want to say that I never swindled anybody in my life. There is not a man, woman or child in the United States who dare say that I ever sold them a share of get-rich-quick company stock."

The meeting was attended by large delegations of Republicans from Brookville, the county seat of Jefferson, Reynoldsville, Brockwayville, Big Run and representatives of the farming districts. A distinguished personage at the rally was Dr. W. J. McKnight, a former Senator of the Jefferson Indiana district, who was one of the founders of the Republican party in 1856. The campaigning party will be at a rally at Indiana tonight. The Jefferson county campaign managers are confident that the county will give Mr. Tener over 1,000 majority.

Lansing of Scranton. Rev. Hanly's address is said to be one of the best ever heard at a State convention. Rev. Kerr made an address at a conference on the federation movement. Washington county is in the front line of counties for a number of Adult Bible classes being led only by Dauphin county.

Fine Time Had at Literary Contest Feature.

ONE SIDE HAS ITS SAY

The third program of the literary contest of the P. H. C. was rendered last evening under the colors of yellow and green. Capt. Valletay had his forces out in good shape. The program was very good, consisting of quotations, readings, speeches etc. A feature was an address of Prof. L. R. Smith of the California Normal, a member of the order. Mr. Smith dwelt upon the rapid growth of the circle and its progress, closing with a beautiful solo, "And for me," which proved he was a vocalist as well as an orator.

Burgess Geo. W. Risbeck, who "rode the goat" last evening also made a fitting and pleasing address. Probably the height of pathetic selections was reached by a recitation by J. A. Maloy, "When My Mother Went Away." The program was filled with selections from the sublime to the ridiculous. The periodical, the "P. H. C. Soup Bowl," a companion piece to the "P. H. C. Dish Rag," edited by C. B. Copeland, concluded the program. The Soup Bowl was full of varieties, good sound facts pertaining to the order, wit and quaint sayings.

Seventy-five members were present and 19 propositions were presented and balloted on. A class of ten was admitted by regular initiation.

Capt. Frank Taylor of side No. 2 was also out with his forces, colors orange and black. Next Friday's program promises to be unusually good. A quartet of male voices will be a feature. The periodical will be edited by Miss Sarah Booth.

The circle is preparing to put two floats in the big Halloween demonstration. Active preparations are being made along that line.

Charleroi will have 50 new members for the big class which will be in the Exposition building in Pittsburgh December 1. The circle has now a membership of 323 regularly enrolled. It expects to reach 400 by January 1, 1911.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS TO MEET AT MONESSEN

Deputy Will Put on Degrees at Big Meeting There Next Sunday--Three Teams Will Assist.

To witness the administering of the first, second and third degrees, over one thousand Knights of Columbus of various parts of Western Pennsylvania, are expected at Monessen Sunday, October 23. The work will be in charge of State Deputy J. T. Prew and he will be assisted by a number of district deputies. The work will be put on at the Turner Hall and will be done by three different lodge degree teams. Monessen, Uniontown and Erie. Ninety applicants will receive the degree, they being from Uniontown, Latrobe, Greensburg and New Kensington. Among the prominent members of the lodge who will be present will be Deputy John Newman, of Pittsburgh. To increase the interest and attendance in midweek prayer meetings, a contest is being conducted now between the First Christian church of Charleroi and the Monongahela Christian church. The contest has been going on now for two weeks and results have been noted already. Deputy John F. Ely of Jeannette, Deputy Stater of Washington and Pas Deputy John McNulty.

MAKE RECORD RUN BUT FIRE IS OUT HUNTING SEASON FORMALLY OPENS

Two Companies Called Out Shortly Before Noon Today.

By a small blaze on a roof of a tenement house on Tenth street, between McKean avenue and the railroad, the fire department was called out this morning with the chemical wagon and the hook and ladder wagon. After making a record run to the place, it was discovered that the fire which was merely at a small spot on the roof, had been extinguished by a boy with a bucket of water.

A Correction

To the Editor of the Mail: In last night's issue of the Charleroi Mail you stated that James Schuelbach, Joseph Schnelbach and Miss Lottie Schnelbach had left their respective positions with the Macbeth-Evans Glass company here to take places with their brother, Harry Schnelbach, who is operating a plant in Follansbee, W. Va. We wish to contradict this statement. James Schuelbach, Joseph Schnelbach and Miss Lottie were discharged by the Macbeth-Evans Glass company. We had no positions in view when we were discharged. Our dismissal came, because Mr. Harry A. Schnelbach, former general superintendent of the Macbeth-Evans Glass company, has gone into co-operative business. We neither left the company to accept positions elsewhere, nor did we resign. Signed, James Schnelbach, Joseph Schnelbach, Lottie Schnelbach.

Mrs. Rose Stark has arrived from Millvale, N. J., to spend some time here.

Lutherans Make Record at Convention of Pittsburgh Synod This Week.

The class of candidates for the ministry ordained at the Pittsburgh Lutheran Synod convention Thursday evening here is said to have been larger than any class ever ordained at one time heretofore in the history of the Pittsburgh Synod. Last year the synod at their convention bewailed the fact that there were not enough candidates for the ministry, and that the proper interest was not being taken. There were none to be ordained at that time.

A Circulation Campaign

That the scurrilous charges of the Philadelphia North American against Congressman John K. Tener were actuated by a desire to gain circulation and notoriety as well as to bolster up a lost cause, is evidenced by the statement of Burton L. Rockwood, chairman of the Prohibition State committee, who is fully conversant with the North American's methods. Mr. Rockwood said:

"This shows beyond a doubt to what extent the newspapers back of the Keystone party are driven to in attempting to bolster up a losing fight."

"About two years ago, while riding up in the elevator to his office in the 'North American' building, Van Valkenberg, of that paper accosted one of the 'State desk' men with the words: 'Let me see, my boy, you came to us from the 'Johnstown Democrat,' didn't you? Well you may never have a paper of your own, but if you do get on the rest of some popular wave like this local option wave and ride into a greater circulation.'"

"These things, coupled with the fact that the wards in Philadelphia which gave the money the largest vote when he ran the last time for some thing or other (he has been in the running but almost as long as Berry and for every office in the list) and which voted in their final registration about 10,000 votes, has made this erstwhile member of the Keystone or K hole party desperate in trying to turn the tide and thus 'bring back the boys' they have put into 'the party' by sensational articles to increase its circulation before the campaign closes."

The charges of the North American have fallen flat. Its strongest point was when it made the grand stand play of announcing that it had "something dreadful" to flash on Mr. Tener and demanding the latter's withdrawal. What the North American tried to make people believe it had and what it really has, are two different propositions, and will not make any appreciable gains for the Keystone campaign of vilification.

A Demagogue in Action

The citizen who forms his opinion in politics deliberately and with regard to the facts has been hampered somewhat in the present campaign by abuse and misrepresentation from the third party candidate for Governor, says the Philadelphia Star. The tempestuous Mr. Berry has endeavored to confound the voter with a view to forcing him to base his judgment, not upon the issue nor upon the relative merits of the candidates, but upon sensational charges and other specious and deceitful arts employed by the office hungry demagogue.

Berry's campaign is an insult to every self-respecting Republican in this State. By skillfully made charges, insinuations, innuendoes and reckless falsification he hopes to deceive the people and secure an office. Instead of meeting the voters with honest discussion of the issues he appears as the apostle of abuse and invective. Throughout the campaign his methods have been those of the demagogue. After the most reckless statements he will shrewdly admit, "Now, I am not prepared to furnish evidence that would stand in any court of justice."

Repeatedly Mr. Berry has said: "John K. Tener was nominated at the dictation of the liquor interests."

This statement does not contain a syllable that is true. John K. Tener was nominated by a convention of delegates representing the great Republican hosts of this Commonwealth. These delegates did not act at the dictation of the liquor men nor of anybody else. They nominated Mr. Tener because they knew him to be able and honest and because they considered him the most available candidate for the office of Governor. He was nominated without a dissenting vote and the liquor interests had absolutely nothing to do with the convention's action.

The alleged protection of vice in Philadelphia is another favorite theme of the office hungry candidate. His charges are vague. He merely repeats the scandalous statements of others and smaller office hungry candidates who have endeavored to do in Philadelphia what Mr. Berry is now attempting to do in the State. But, even if Mr. Berry's charges possessed an element of truth, the fact would remain that John K. Tener is not a candidate for the office of mayor of Philadelphia, but a candidate for Governor of Pennsylvania.

Berry is following the same line of attack he utilized when a candidate for State Treasurer five years ago. In that campaign the people of Pennsylvania were stricken aghast at his charges of amazing corruption in city and State. From newspaper and stump the wild dissemination of scandal went out until a majority of the people elected Berry State Treasurer. He received their votes under pledge to reveal and correct the abuses that he alleged existed. But he was not able to substantiate his reckless charges. One by one the scandalous statements he had made on the stump were proven to be without foundation.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

Nothing makes a man quite so proud of himself as being told that he is over-working.

The Beaver county murderer caught in Monongahela after a few days French leave of absence from jail there, couldn't keep away from Charleroi, when he was supposed to be decent, and came here to be employed and to make occasional visits to the lockup.

The editor of John K. Tener's Charleroi Mail should take six months off and attend a school where they teach nothing but truth telling. It is possible that by close application, at the end of the term he might, if he applied all his powers, be able to tell the truth once in a while. At present he appears to have no ability whatever that direction. Canonsburg Notes. If Acheson's Echo, otherwise the Notes, would be just a little more explicit when it says wicked things about its contemporaries, it would perhaps please their patrons more and let us know just what it was talking about.

The Mail has been taken to task for stating that there were only about 100 at the Keystone California meeting. We are sincerely sorry, humbly apologize and take it all back. There were 101 1/2.

One way to stop all Halloween depredations is to help along the Halloween celebration. Another way is to padlock everything.

The New Castle Herald makes a very wide statement when it says no man will support Tener unless he holds office, expects to hold office, or has a relative who holds office. It evidently thinks that the big majority is holding office.

With the hunting season open, a scarcity of milk may be expected because of the carelessness of farmers in not properly labeling cows to protect them from being taken for birds.

It is a question whether it is more dangerous to trust a foreigner with a gun than it is to trust a foreigner to a gun.

That word "rousing" is being worked overtime by these Keystone party writers.

A MIGHTY REMEDY

Cures Backache, Sideache and all Kidney, Liver and Bladder or Money Back

Yes money back, that's the offer that W. F. Hennings the agent in Charleroi makes if Thompson's Barosma fails to cure any of the above named diseases.

And when you stop to think that's a wonderfully generous offer from the viewpoint of the afflicted, the sick and the suffering.

But the generous feature is cast aside when you learn that the makers of Thompson's Barosma aren't taking one-tenth the chance you think they are, because they know from years of experience, and from thousands of cures, and thousands of testimonials that Thompson's Barosma will absolutely and permanently cure all kidney, liver and bladder diseases.

So the money back offer is made simply to show quickly and conclusively that the makers of Thompson's Barosma have the utmost faith in this marvelous remedy.

So if you are ill, have the blues, have lost ambition, have backache or pains in your side, if your urine is high colored, and your eyes dull and complexion sallow, the chances are that your kidneys are weak and clogged up and that your blood is full of impurities.

So why wait when Thompson's Barosma is guaranteed to restore your health. Get a bottle today at W. F. Hennings. There are two sizes 50 cent and $1.00.

Five years ago Charles Schultz of Dunkirk, N. Y., was so weak and rundown, that he decided to give up his business. He took Barosma and in a few months he regained his health and gained 55 pounds in weight. Today he writes: "I have been in perfect health ever since I wrote you five years ago."

Lecture Course at Monessen

An association of 42 guarantors has been quietly formed at Monessen for the purpose of giving a lecture course during the coming winter. Their announcement would indicate that the course of entertainments will be of the highest order, as Gov. E. W. Hoch of Kansas has been secured as the stellar attraction. Gov. Hoch is known from Maine to California as a public speaker, ranking with Roosevelt and Bryan as a drawing card.

Dr. Samuel Parkes Cadman equally successful as a lecturer, although not so widely known as Gov. Hoch, has also been secured. These two lecturers together with the Duddy Buck Concert company and Whitney Brothers quarter will round out the course. Season tickets at $1.50 for the course can be obtained from Rev. A. T. Wallace, secretary of the Guarantors Association.

INFLUENTIAL JOURNALS DO NOT TAKE SERIOUSLY ATTACK ON J. K. TENER

It (the North American) admits that a group of respectable names was added to the list of directors and of these respectable names half a dozen are given. It stands to reason that these half dozen were unaware of the fraudulent nature of the company, if that be its true nature. Their standing would preclude such connection with a true knowledge of its nature. We believe that in the absence of knowledge of and consent to the fraudulent operations of the company by Mr. Tener his name should not be used in connection with those of the criminal element but in connection with those of the respectable element, and that for the purpose of attack the North American is simply taking advantage of his candidacy to exploit his name in a fraudulent connection. If that be the case the attack is unfair and unjust—Uniontown Herald.

As for this bit of sensationalism which has been introduced into the campaign it is a disgrace to journalism. It is essentially a low grade political trick, partly intended to attain the meanest of partisan ends and partly to achieve a feat of commercialism of the most despicable character. This is proved by the circular letter from the paper's circulation department, by means of which an effort was made to sell the slander as widely as possible—Pittsburgh Gazette Times.

The Cry of the Age is "Back to the Farm"

With the best market in the world at his door, the intensive farmer located in the Monongahela valley is the wise man of his generation.

Every town has as much need of the small truck, fruit and poultry farms around it as it has for more factories. Such farms make living better and cheaper for the laboring man and more business for the merchant.

I have secured control of a large farm within five minutes walk of the borough limits and will, within the next six weeks, sell it out in small farms. I now have purchasers for about one-half of it and owing to the great demand for small farms near Charleroi expect to close all sales for these farms in a very short time.

A farm big enough for all the boys to work as a truck, poultry and fruit farm while the father works at the mill, can be bought for the price of a cheap town lot. Good country school nearby.

A farm big enough to require the whole time of one intensive farmer can be bought for $500.00. Read the Pittsburgh papers about the great land show which will be held there within the next few weeks and learn what can be raised on a few acres of ground by the new methods of intensive farming.

Call at the office of Charles O. Frye, 511 Washington Avenue, and get full particulars.

Learn About Irrigation and the Enormous Productive Power of Irrigated Land!

It's a marvelous story—so wonderful that you must see facts and figures before you can even comprehend it. Yet it's all true. Irrigation is rapidly turning the "great West" into the garden spot of the world. Every river, stream and ditch that carries moisture to western acres is setting loose a store of fertility practically inexhaustible. A few acres of irrigated land, with attendant water rights, will yield vastly greater profits than a large eastern farm. Especially is this true of irrigated land in California and Idaho. Everything that grows anywhere grows in these favored spots. Nature works for the happy rancher the whole year round. Bumper-crops of oranges, lemons, grapes, peaches, small fruits, cereals and "truck," in natural succession follow each other, or grow together, and keep the rancher's pocket bulging with profits twelve months in the year. We could fill this whole space with the story of western irrigated land and not tell half—but, if it interests you—if you want a better chance than you're getting now—come to our booth at the big land show in Pittsburgh, October 17th to 29th, and let us tell the rest of the story.

Stereopticon Views

Just to clinch what we're saying about our western irrigation projects, we have arranged for a most interesting stereopticon lecture by Colonel P. E. Holp. This will be too good to miss. It will give you a better idea of the tremendous crops and profits to be had from irrigated land in California and Idaho than columns of cold type can possibly do.

You will see here in actual photographs—farms, homes, crops and conditions just as they are to-day in this, the richest empire of the west.

A Relief Map of California

And besides the really wonderful stereopticon views and interesting lecture, we have also a great relief map of the whole state of California, showing mountain ranges, lakes, rivers, the Yosemite Valley and all the other marvelous physical features of this most wonderful state in the Union. On it you can locate at a glance our great Sacramento Irrigation Project and get a clear idea of its natural advantages and proximity to the best markets in the state.

Returns of 40 to 400 Dollars per Acre

This great tract of enormously rich land (hundreds of thousands of acres) in the beautiful Sacramento Valley and our Twin Falls tract in Idaho are the two largest public and private irrigation enterprises in the country. The crops that can be grown on these lands are almost endless in variety. A few acres on either tract offers to the tired-out and discouraged eastern farmer a return for his labor vastly in excess of anything he has ever dreamed of. $40 to $400 per acre is the common thing, not the exception.

Free Literature at Our Office

At our office, 345 Fourth Ave., we constantly carry a mass of beautiful descriptive literature for free distribution that is well worth your reading.

California is the land of sunshine—the land of promise—the land of the future! Thousands of settlers are leaving worn-out eastern farms, or worrying, wearing toil at desk and bench, and are taking refuge in these lands of plenty. There is room for you too. This is a project you should know about. Call at our booth at the big Pittsburgh Land Show or—still better—make our offices your headquarters while in Pittsburgh. We'll extend you every courtesy and maybe we can show you a way to do better financially than you're now doing.

HE ASKED THE TIME.

A Question and Answer That Changed
a Clerk's Position.

How many clerks measure up to the standard of the young bookkeeper in this story from Human Life? He was employed in the passenger department of a great railroad. It was just a little before lunch. Some of the clerks were putting on their coats, some leaving for the washroom, some consulting the clock; some were still busy. Suddenly the "boss" entered. He glanced about him and then approached the young bookkeeper.

"What time is it?" he asked. The young man kept on figuring, and the boss put a hand on his desk and repeated the question.

"Instantly the other looked up, surprised to see the chief at his elbow.

"I beg your pardon, were you speaking to me?" he asked.

"Merely inquired the time—that was all," said the other.

"The bookkeeper glanced about the room, located the office clock and said: "It's ten minutes to 12."

"Thank you," said the general manager and vice president, and strolled out.

That conversation cost the young bookkeeper his place—in the passenger department—and put him under a higher officer "on the firing line." Nine years later he was assistant general manager, and while still in the thirties became a general manager, full fledged.

RAPID STORY WRITING.

A Boast That Dumas Made, a Wager and the Result.

For rapidity of composition the prize among novelists must be awarded to Alexandre Dumas, who died with over 3,000 books to his credit, in all of which he had some share. According to Mr. Arthur F. Davidson, one of his biographers, he often declared that when once he had mapped out in his mind the scheme of a novel or the play the work was practically accomplished, since the mere writing of it presented no difficulty and could be performed as fast as the pen could travel. Some one disputed this; the result was a wager. Dumas had in his head the plan of the "Chevalier de la Maison Rouge," of which he had not yet written a word, and he made a bet of 100 louis that he would write the first volume of the novel in seventy-two hours. The volume was to be formed by seventy-five large foolscap pages, each page containing forty-five lines and each line fifty letters. In sixty-six hours Dumas had done the work in his fair, flowing hand, disfigured by no erasures—and the bet was won with six hours to spare.—London Chronicle.

Danced in Court.

An unusual scene was once witnessed in a French law court, the civil tribunal at Nantes. The proprietor of a local theater had engaged a young lady dancer, whose performances at rehearsals did not come up to his expectations. He therefore would not let her appear, and the fair dancer took action against him for breach of contract. The defendant alleged that she had not even learned the first steps of her art, and here being a plain issue, the judge determined to decide for himself. A space was accordingly forthwith cleared on the floor of the court, and in these unusual surroundings the young lady duly went through her steps and pirouettes. In the result the judge felt justified in certifying that she was quite an expert dancer and decided the case in her favor. Henceforth she advertised herself as the only dancer in the country with a legal certificate of proficiency.—London Tit-Bits.

Poets and Dogs.

Poets have always loved dogs. In this poets and boys resemble each other. Walter Savage Landor was devoted to his dog Giallo and Byron's epitaph upon his dog Boatswain we all remember:

To mark a friend's remains these stones
I never had but one, and there he lies.

Cowper was very fond of his dog, and we know how Charles Lamb, who was a prose poet, loved his Dash and how Mrs. Browning appreciated the little Flush to whom she indited a poem. The Earl of Shaftesbury kept his noble collier in his library with him at all times and Samuel Rogers always walked out with his dog. Scott declined an invitation to dinner when his dog died, saying that he could not accept on account of the "loss of an old friend."—St. James' Gazette.

The Cavity.

Cholly—The dentist told me I had a large cavity that needed filling. Ethel—Did he recommend any special course of treatment?

Albani and Gye.

The story of Miss Albani's first London engagement is as follows: Colonel Mapleson heard of her singing at a theater at Malta, and, thinking that she would be successful, he made her an offer through an agent of a contract to sing in Her Majesty's theater. She agreed to it and went to London, but on arriving there she told the cabman to drive her to the Italian opera house. He, instead of going to Her Majesty's, took her to Covent Garden, which was also devoted to Italian opera. She was shown up to the manager's office and stated that she had come to sign the contract which Mr. Mapleson had offered her. Mr. Gye, thinking to play a joke on his rival, Mapleson, made out a contract, and Albani signed it. Mr. Gye then told her that he was not Colonel Mapleson, but that he could do much better by her. He offered to tear up the contract if she liked, but told her that Nilsson was singing at Her Majesty's and would brook no rival. Albani decided to let the contract stand and thus became one of the stars of Covent Garden, eventually marrying the son of Mr. Gye.

His Final Plea.

A Chicago man appeared at the White House one day during the McKinley administration with a petition containing 7,000 names recommending him for appointment as Brazilian minister. He was a picture framer, and when he was canvassing for orders he took along his petition and asked everybody in the picture frame business to sign it. Almost everybody did. The man was insistent and finally reached the president. Always gentle and considerate, President McKinley explained to the candidate that he would have to consult the Illinois senators and representatives about the matter before making the appointment.

"You know," said the president, "we have to select big men for these big places."

"Well," asked the picture framer, "won't I be just as big as any of them if I get the job?"—Philadelphia Saturday Evening Post.

The Lost Umbrella.

"I have been coming here for my lunch for years, but never again," said a man to the head waiter of a downtown restaurant recently. "Sorry," began the waiter. "Sorry nothing. I left the umbrella here, not five minutes ago, there was no one near our table, and the waiter must have seen it." "If we find it"—"Find it? It is found, I tell you, and I'll have it now or you'll never see me here again."

The man, flushed with excitement, was walking away when he was halted by a man who had entered by the rear door. "Say, Frank, is this your umbrella? I picked it up when we finished lunch. Glad you were still here." "Here, but not still," the head waiter whispered. "The umbrella has been found, but our customer has been lost for a few days. He'll be ashamed to come in for a little while."—New York Tribune.

The Cassowary.

The cassowary is a natural boxer and the only bird, except perhaps the ostrich, whose method of defense and attack in warfare is the forward kick—straight out, like a man—is calculated to arouse envy in the breast of any save a crack athlete. Another peculiarity of this bird is his ability to perform a sort of war dance over any particular object, a bit of rag, a stick or a stone, that attracts his attention.

Varied Views of Marriage.

Marriage is a lottery to the bachelor, an urgent necessity in the opinion of the widower, a delightful temptation to the widow, a habit with a good many.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

AMONG THE THEATRES

The Palace—Charleroi

The strength of a story or picture is in the penetration of that most vital of all interests—the heart—and that is the secret of the force and beauty of "The Three of Them," a feature at the Palace Theatre this week. The mainspring of life is the child. A childless home is like a ship without a compass.

It is not strange that the wife who is not a mother longs to take to her heart and home some motherless child and that is just what Mrs. Welton did when she read in a magazine that she might take from the asylum Ernest, a little orphan boy, into her home for two weeks. Her husband is opposed to it, but does not interfere with her doing so. Gradually Mr. Welton becomes quite interested in the boy and his many little pastimes. His wife sees this and she is happy. She loves the boy dearly and when the two weeks are ended she can hardly bear to part with him when she has to take him back to the asylum. Returning to her home, she is heart-broken. Her husband notices her condition and he decides to go to the asylum and bring the boy to their home for adoption. Acting upon the impulse he brings the boy back, and when his wife who has worn herself out fretting, is sleeping, the boy youngster kisses her. She awakens and can scarcely believe her eyes.

The boy becomes their child, they become his parents and the three of them are happy in the love of a completed household.

There is a something in this picture that gets a hold and keeps you right there from the minute it starts to the time it ends.

The vocal music was a strong feature the Palace this week. Monday night all the singers rendered their own compositions. Donald J. Garrison sang "Mowena" an Indian love song of his own composing, and Francis Mack sang his beautiful ballad "No One Knows" and "Jingle, Jingle Jingle of the Money in the Pocket is the Sweetest Sound to Me." John Jenkins, Esq., has been engaged as drummer, and the attendance this week has been of the capacity order.

The Grand—Pittsburg

The Grand's vaudeville program for the week beginning next Monday afternoon, September 17, includes Nora Bayes and Jack Norworth, late star feature of the "Follies of 1907," and "The Jolly Bachelors," the seven America Belfords, advanced acrobats; Herr Germain, the famous Manhattan Opera tenor; Musical Suffragettes, recruited from the Boston Fadedettes Women's Orchestra; Raymond and Caverly, German dialect comedians; Gertrude and Dyck and Roy Fero in a classy singing act and numerous others.

Nora Bayes and Jack Norworth, however, will be the feature prominent. It will be their first engagement in this city as joint stars.

The Alvin—Pittsburg

The announcement that Robert Mantell will appear in Pittsburg at the Alvin Theatre for a full week in Shakespearean and classic plays, is one which is calculated to arouse more than usual interest. The unquestioned position which this distinguished actor occupies at the head of his profession in America, and the brilliant repertoire selected offer sufficient assurance that the affair will be one of the most memorable in the theatrical history of Pittsburg. Last season was one of disaster a great many theatrical enterprises and it is significant that the Mantell season was the most prosperous within the extended career of that distinguished actor. The tour extended from coast to coast, and everywhere Mr. Mantell was most warmly greeted by large and enthusiastic audiences. Plans are in progress of formation for a tour of the world, commencing in the autumn of 1911, when Mr. Mantell expects to open his season on the Pacific coast to sail from San Francisco for Australia, via Honolulu, and Manila, and after playing the larger Australian cities, to go through the Strait Settlements, Calcutta, and other Indian ports and to return home by way of the continent and England, playing extended engagements in London early in the summer of 1912. Consequently this will be his last appearance for at least two years. The repertoire selected for the Alvin is as follows: Monday, "Hamlet," Tuesday "Macbeth," Wednesday matinee "King Lear," Wednesday night, "Merchant of Venice," Thursday and Friday The

"O Fly," Saturday matinee, "Romeo and Juliet," and Saturday night "Richard Third."

The Nixon—Pittsburg

Commencing Monday evening, October 17 at the Nixon Theatre, Pittsburg and continuing for the week, with matinees Wednesday and Saturday, the attraction will be Laurette Taylor, the youngest and daintiest dramatic star, in the notable comedy success "The Girl in Waiting." The fact that the star and production are under the management of Cohan and Harris, whose attractions are always among the very best of the season's offerings is sufficient guarantee of their merit. J. Hartley Manners has taken for his plot the story of Archibald Eyre's novel of the same name and woven around it one of the most fascinating chains of incidents ever devised. He has mingled comedy humor, farce and romance in just the proper proportions to give them the greatest value. The four acts are magnificently staged, and the gowns worn by the ladies of the company are a treat to the eye.

As for Laurette Taylor's interpretation of the leading role, nothing more chic and dainty has been seen on the stage in years. Her youth and beauty, her charm of manner and personality, her winning smile and infectious laugh—all aid her in scoring one of the most pronounced hits in several years. She is irresistible in the comedy scenes sweet and appealing in the serious moments and in her deft and subtle touches displays the skill of the true artists.

New Duquesne—Pittsburg

The most elaborate and gorgeous production that has ever been attempted by the Harry Davis stock company at the Duquesne theatre will be next week's richly staged revival of Victorien Sardou's "Cleopatra." This magnificent masterpiece of the great French playwright—the most brilliant theatrical genius of his age—will be given with an opulence of scenic splendor. Its six acts will be crowded stage pictures, glowing with Oriental color and charm. Mary Hall who excels in the portrayal of the heroines of Sardou, will be seen as the fascinating siren of the Nile while the new young leading man,

CURE YOUR KIDNEYS

Do Not Endanger Life When a Charleroi Citizen Shows You the Cure

Why with people continue to suffer the agonies of kidney complaint, backache, urinary disorders, lameness, headache, languor, why allow themselves to become chronic invalids, when a certain cure is offered them? Doan's Kidney Pills is the remedy to use, because it gives to the kidneys the help they need to perform their work.

If you have any even one of the symptoms of kidney diseases, cure yourself now, before diabetes, dropsy or Bright's disease sets in. Read this Charleroi testimony: Mrs. B. Mahoney, 823 McKean avenue, Charleroi, Pa., says: "For a long time a member of our family complained of pains in the small of the back. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills highly advertised, a box was procured at Piper Bros. Drug Store and their use was begun. They brought such great relief that I do not hesitate to recommend them to other kidney sufferers."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.
